G'day from Grant

I was watching a Rugby match, and, as the game concluded, the commentator described it as “a game of two halves.” On the surface, this was obvious! But what he meant was that the underdog from the first half hadn’t given up.

2025 felt very similar. In the first half of 2025, like many American businesses, we faced significant uncertainty and challenging economic conditions. These were factors outside our control.

We chose to focus on what we could control. We held strong inventory levels, continued to develop our talented and committed staff, and maintained an open dialogue with our customers.

The second half of 2025 brought a renewed, cautious confidence and hope for 2026. The general business environment has always been and will always be dynamic. But if this year has reminded us of anything, it’s the importance of strong business fundamentals.

Those fundamentals are the basis for which we will celebrate the 25th anniversary of Learning Advantage in 2026. I am deeply proud of our business. And I’m thankful for my business partners who have stayed committed to our company for the past 25 years. They implemented a strong set of business principles long before my time here.

I hope all our customers have two strong halves in 2026. We’ll be right alongside you.

Cheers,
President & CEO
